

Job description

McLean Counseling Center is seeking a dedicated and motivated licensed therapist with experience providing neurofeedback therapy to join our team on a full-time or part-time basis. This is an exciting opportunity to join the practice of an established therapy-focused psychiatrist, including the option for weekly individual and group supervision. McLean Counseling Center provides treatment that is entirely out of network, which allows our psychiatrists and therapists to provide high quality care, including the option for teletherapy.

Responsibilities include:

- Providing diagnostic and evaluation services for clients.
- Designing and implementing personalized neurofeedback therapy treatment plans.
- Offering individual psychotherapy sessions to clients, utilizing evidence-based modalities.
- Monitoring clients' progress in both neurofeedback and psychotherapy aspects and adjusting treatment plans as necessary.
- Collaborating with McLean Counseling Center team members and outside colleagues to coordinate treatment.

Requirements:

- Master's or Doctoral degree in Psychology, Counseling, or related field.
- Current licensure as a therapist in Virginia.
- Applicants must be BCIA certified.
- Experience in providing neurofeedback therapy.
- Strong understanding of the principles and applications of neurofeedback therapy.
- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills.
- Empathetic, compassionate, and patient-centered approach to therapy.
- Ability to work independently and as part of a multidisciplinary team.

The position is entirely outpatient, with no inpatient call responsibilities.

Preferably experience working with diverse age groups (children, adolescents, and adults)**
